APPENDIX A: COMPLAINTS HANDLING PROCEDURES

1 Informal complaints

The School acknowledges that concerns and issues exist that may be resolved informally without the need to follow a formal complaints process.

In such cases, complainants are encouraged to initially raise issues or concerns informally with the relevant person at the time of the issue arising. Discussing the issue or concern immediately and face-to-face may clarify the situation and resolve any misunderstandings satisfactorily.

In the event that this does not resolve the issue, or should the complainant not wish to try to resolve the complaint informally, the formal complaints process set out in these Complaints Handling Procedures (Procedures) should be followed.

2 Anonymous complaints

If an anonymous complaint is made to the School, complainants will be encouraged to identify themselves in order for the Procedures to be implemented fully. If they choose to remain anonymous, then it is at the School's sole and absolute discretion whether any action will be taken in response to the complaint.

Should any matters require anonymity or be highly sensitive in nature, reference may also be made to the School's Whistleblower Policy.

3 Confidentiality

The School is committed to the confidentiality of complaints, at all steps in the process of their resolution.

Complainants, respondents and other parties (such as witnesses) must maintain strict confidentiality during the complaints process. This means that parties must not discuss any details of a complaint or the progress of its resolution with any person who is not directly involved in the complaints process.

There are some exceptions to this. For example, parties to a complaint may discuss the complaint with a support person, professional advisor, close family member or with a counsellor who is assisting them.

Further, there may be some circumstances where it is not possible for the School to maintain strict confidentiality. The disclosure of information about the complaint may be necessary:

- (a) to ensure that complaints are able to be handled in a procedurally fair way
- (b) to properly investigate the complaint
- (c) to comply with the School's legal obligations to notify or report certain information to external authorities or other third parties
- (d) for the School to seek professional advice (including from its lawyers, insurers and auditors)
- (e) to protect members of the School community (such as where the complaint involves criminal activity or reveals a possible risk to health and safety).

4 Formal complaints

These Procedures detail how the School will address/capture a formal complaint. There may be cases where, due to the sensitivity or complexity of the issues raised by the complaint, the procedure is not appropriate and other actions will be taken. The School will determine on a case-by-case basis the most appropriate method of handling the complaint.

5 Making a formal complaint

Formal complaints should be made in writing and include:

- (a) The complainant's name and contact details
- (b) The nature and circumstances of the complaint
- (c) Any correspondence or documents directly relevant to the complainant
- (d) Any steps that have already been taken to address the complaint, and
- (e) The outcome the complainant is seeking to resolve the complaint.

The complainant should also clearly state that they are raising a complaint under the Policy.

The complaint should be addressed to one of the following members of the School's Senior Leadership Team:

- (f) Principal
- (a) Deputy Principal
- (b) Deputy Principal (Academic)

- (c) Director of Communications, Development and Engagement.

Should a complaint be made against the Principal, this complaint should be put in writing and addressed to the Chair of the Board of Trustees. Complaints received by the Board of Trustees must be referred to the Chair of the Board of Trustees, who will handle the complaint, so far as practicable, in accordance with these Procedures.

Any Staff members (or members of the Board of Trustees) receiving a complaint verbally should encourage the complainant to make a formal complaint in writing in accordance with these Procedures. They should also notify the most relevant member of the Senior Leadership Team about the discussion so that the complaint can be received appropriately when it does arrive.

There is an underlying assumption that complaints are made in good faith and with an intention for resolution as opposed to retribution. If a complaint is made in good faith, complainants will be protected from detrimental action including victimisation and unfair treatment.

6 Acknowledging and handling a formal complaint

On receipt, the School will acknowledge the complaint (where possible, within 24 to 48 hours).

The School is committed to providing procedural fairness to the parties at each stage of the complaints process.

The requirements of procedural fairness will differ in each case depending on the circumstances of the complaint and the stage of the complaints process that is engaged.

However, the School will use its best endeavours to ensure that the complaints process is conducted in such a manner that:

- (a) parties to a complaint have an opportunity to present their views and be heard
- (b) parties to a complaint have an opportunity to respond to any allegations
- (c) complaints are assessed by the School in an objective and unbiased manner
- (d) parties can have a support person at any stage of the complaints process (being a person who is not themselves directly involved in the complaint)

- (e) any decisions made by the School in relation to a complaint are made objectively having regard to relevant information, and

- (f) parties to a complaint are made aware of the Policy (including these Procedures).

The School may appoint an internal or external party to investigate a complaint.

The School may seek additional information from a complainant, respondent or third party at any stage during the complaints process, if required.

All parties to a formal complaint will be appropriately supported (including counselling for Staff and students) and provided with reasonable updates on the progress of the process (where appropriate).

The School may in its sole and absolute discretion decide at any time that a complaint is, on the evidence available, vexatious, frivolous, misconceived or without substance, or that the Policy (including these Procedures) do not apply. If so, the complaint will no longer progress under the Policy and these Procedures. This will be communicated in writing to all parties to the complaint.

7 Withdrawal of complaint

A complainant may at any time withdraw their complaint. Where a complaint is withdrawn, or the complainant is not actively participating in the complaints process, the School may in its sole and absolute discretion decide to either continue to deal with the complaint, or to take no further action.

8 Timing

The School will endeavor to resolve all complaints as quickly as reasonably possible. However, the timeframe for resolution of a complaint will depend on a range of factors including the nature, scope and complexity of the complaint.

If a complaint is in respect of any changes proposed by the School, the School is not prevented from implementing those changes while the complaint is being dealt with by the School.

9 Outcomes

The School may resolve complaints in any way it considers appropriate in the circumstances, having regard to the Policy (including these Procedures), and any other relevant policies or procedures of the School.

The outcome of a complaint will vary on a case-by-case basis depending on the circumstances surrounding the grievance.

However, outcomes could include:

- (a) the complainant being provided with an explanation or further information about a complaint and as a result no longer feeling aggrieved
- (b) the complainant receiving an apology or statement of regret where appropriate
- (c) disciplinary action being taken against the respondent, where appropriate
- (d) a review of policies, procedures or practices, or further training of Staff, if required
- (e) mediation services, counselling or other support as appropriate, and/or
- (f) where the complaint concerns the actions of students, the involvement of the School's pastoral care team may be recommended.

The School will inform the complainant and respondent of the outcome of the complaint.

However, in some cases, it may not be appropriate for the School to disclose details of the specific action taken in relation to a complaint. For example, where the School takes disciplinary action against a student or Staff member, or resolution of the complaint otherwise gives rise to issues of confidentiality or privacy.

Complainants, respondents and people associated with them will not be victimised because of lodging a complaint, nor will they suffer any other reprisals.

The School will manage any conflicts of interest that may arise during the course of investigation of any complaint.

Nothing in the Policy (including these Procedures) prevents the School from taking action to investigate or address matters of which it is aware, but which have not been raised as complaints made under the Policy.

10 Review process

If a party to a complaint is unsatisfied with the outcome of any investigation, they may refer the matter to the Principal for review.

If a party to a complaint remains unsatisfied with the outcome after the Principal's review, they may refer the matter to the School's Board of Trustees for review by email to bggschair@bggs.qld.edu.au.

Any review will be managed as deemed appropriate by the Principal or the Board of Trustees (as the case may be) in the circumstances.

For complaints against the Principal, the outcome of the Board of Trustees' initial investigation into the complaint will be final.

11 Recordkeeping and reporting

The School maintains a Complaints Register where all formal complaints are recorded, classified and analysed to identify systemic, recurring and single incident problems. Any trends are noted to identify key risk areas and help eliminate the underlying causes of complaints.

Confidential records are kept including details of the description of a formal complaint, supporting documents if any, immediate action taken, records relating to any investigation undertaken including witness statements if applicable, and a log of all interactions during the complaints process.

The Board of Trustees will receive regular reports (as appropriate) with respect to the status of existing complaints, any underlying statistical trends, and any relevant information with respect to resolutions that have been implemented.

The School's Privacy Policy and Standard Collection Notice provides for how the School manages personal information covered by the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth).
