Brisbane Girls Grammar School:

Last Friday, Brisbane Girls Grammar School students celebrated the first birthday of the school’s six-level Creative Learning Centre during their lunchtime.

The centre is a modern, purpose-built facility for the school’s music, drama, technology studies and art programs. It also provides a state-of-the-art refectory, which gives the girls a unique social learning space.

To celebrate, 95 dozen Krispy Kreme doughnuts were sold to raise funds for the Burma Emergency Appeal, in response to the devastation caused by the cyclone.

The event was organised by the school’s head girls, Cassie Jeavons and Avi Kaye, along with the school’s Student Executive.

The event was a resounding success, raising about $1200 toward the Burma Appeal.
