Top marks for architecture

The Weekend Australian Financial Review

BUSINESS PROPERTY

IN BRIEF

July 26-27, 2008

Page 17

A "breathtaking" school building—the Cherrell Hirst Creative Learning Centre at Brisbane Girls Grammar School by m3architecture—has won the Queensland Architecture Award for public buildings from the Australian Institute of Architects. It was one of 29 awards presented on Friday night. The hotly contested prize for residential architecture went to the "highly crafted" Samford House at Pine Rivers by Bligh Graham Architects, which "pushes the boundaries of sustainability and detail".